Additional costs that aren't included in the Investment fee

Some of our Transactional and operational costs are included in the calculation of our overall Investment fee, but there are other Transactional and operational costs which aren't included.

The costs we don't include are costs we can't specifically identify. These are built into (or 'implicit' in) the trading prices of assets and therefore can only be estimated. These costs are known as Implicit transactional and operational costs. You can find the definition of Implicit transactional and operational costs, plus some examples of these, on page 4.

The table on this page shows the figures for both the included Transactional and operational costs and estimates of the implicit items, so you can see an indicative total figure for all Transactional and operational costs.

Definitions of fees and costs

Definitions of the most common fees are included here. For more information, refer to our dictionary at australiansuper.com/dictionary

Activity fees

A fee is an activity fee if:

- a) the fee relates to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity that are directly related to an activity of the trustee:
 - i. that is engaged in at the request, or with the consent, of a member; or
 - ii. that relates to a member and is required by law; and
- b) those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

This is a fee you'll incur directly for an additional requested service, such as a request to split your super contributions with your spouse.

Administration fees

An administration fee is a fee that relates to the administration or operation of the superannuation entity and includes costs that relate to that administration or operation, other than:

- a) borrowing costs; and
- b) indirect costs that are not paid out of the superannuation entity that the trustee has elected in writing will be treated as indirect costs and not fees, incurred by the trustee of the entity or in an interposed vehicle or derivative financial product; and
- c) costs that are otherwise charged as an investment fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an activity fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

This fee is paid into the Fund's administration reserve and the Fund pays its administration costs from that reserve. AustralianSuper claims a tax deduction for administration costs each year. The amount of the deduction is also paid into the reserve.

Advice fees

A fee is an advice fee if:

- a) the fee relates directly to costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity because of the provision of financial product advice to a member by:
 - i. a trustee of the entity; or
 - ii. another person acting as an employee of, or under an arrangement with, the trustee of the entity; and
- b) those costs are not otherwise charged as an administration fee, an investment fee, a switching fee, an activity fee or an insurance fee.

Examples where the cost of advice can be incurred by the super fund, includes simple, one-off advice relating to your:

- > investment options within AustralianSuper,
- > insurance cover within AustralianSuper, and
- > contributions to an AustralianSuper account.

An advice fee for other types of advice which is typically more complex in nature, may be paid from your account for services provided by a financial adviser who's registered with AustralianSuper. However the cost of that advice must relate to your AustralianSuper account(s).

Borrowing costs

AustralianSuper doesn't borrow money but we do invest in entities that borrow money. We invest in these entities because they are conduits that allow us to access certain investments.

Borrowing costs are costs incurred on loans taken out by these entities, such as loan establishment fees and interest paid to lenders.

Buy-sell spread fees

AustralianSuper doesn't charge any buy-sell spread fees.

A buy-sell spread is a fee to recover transaction costs incurred by the trustee of the superannuation entity in relation to the sale and purchase of assets of the entity.

Exit fees

AustralianSuper doesn't charge any exit fees. An exit fee is a fee, other than a buy-sell spread, that relates to the disposal of all or part of a member's interests in a superannuation entity.

Implicit transactional and operational costs

These are costs that are incorporated within the purchase and sale price of assets and therefore can't be specifically identified – they can only be estimated. Examples include the estimated margin charged when trading bonds through a broker and the impact that our own trading may have on the market price of an asset traded.

Indirect Cost Ratio

AustralianSuper doesn't have an Indirect cost ratio. Instead, the costs of managing your investments are included in our overall Investment fee.

The indirect cost ratio (ICR), for a MySuper product or an investment option offered by a superannuation entity, is the ratio of the total of the indirect costs for the MySuper product or investment option, to the total average net assets of the superannuation entity attributed to the MySuper product or investment option.

Note: A fee deducted from a member's account or paid out of the superannuation entity is not an indirect cost.

This is another way of calculating the cost of managing your investments.

Investment fees

An investment fee is a fee that relates to the investment of the assets of a superannuation entity and includes:

- a) fees in payment for the exercise of care and expertise in the investment of those assets (including performance fees); and
- b) costs that relate to the investment of assets of the entity, other than:
 - i. borrowing costs; and
 - ii. indirect costs that are not paid out of the superannuation entity that the trustee has elected in writing will be treated as indirect costs and not fees, incurred by the trustee of the entity or in an interposed vehicle or derivative financial product; and
 - iii. costs that are otherwise charged as an administration fee, a buy-sell spread, a switching fee, an activity fee, an advice fee or an insurance fee.

Note: Investment fees do not include implicit transactional and operational costs, borrowing costs or property operating costs.

This fee includes expenses incurred by AustralianSuper, as well as amounts incurred indirectly via underlying fund investments. The Investment fee consists of investment management fees, performance related fees, plus transactional and operational costs.

Each of the individual items that make up the overall Investment fee are calculated looking back as at 30 June each year, and are expressed as a ratio to the average value of all the assets in the investment option over the year. The Investment fee is likely to change from year to year.

The investment fee is not deducted directly from your account. Rather, the amount reduces the net returns of each investment option, before returns are credited to your account.

Investment management fees

These represent the amounts deducted from your investment that relate to core investment management functions.

Examples are our internal investment management costs and investment management fees paid to third parties (excluding Performance related fees).

These also include custody costs, audit and administrative costs of your investments – including those incurred through underlying funds.

Performance related fees

These are fees we pay to third parties for generating positive returns, such as outperformance above a disclosed benchmark. Generally performance related fees are calculated as a percentage of the returns generated.

Property operating costs

These are costs AustralianSuper incurs in relation to the operational activities of our real estate investments. Examples of these are the property owner's share of maintenance costs and management costs of shopping centres and office buildings. Property operating costs don't relate to the acquisition or disposal of property.

Switching fees

AustralianSuper doesn't charge any switching fees.

A switching fee for a MySuper product is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in a superannuation entity from one class of beneficial interest in the entity to another.

A switching fee for a superannuation product other than a MySuper product, is a fee to recover the costs of switching all or part of a member's interest in the superannuation entity from one investment option or product in the entity to another.

Transactional and operational costs

These comprise a broad category of costs we incur that relate to buying or selling underlying investments. Examples of these include brokerage and commission.

Seek professional advice

Investments purchased through the Member Direct investment option form part of a self-directed investment strategy. Member Direct isn't for everyone. We strongly encourage you to seek advice from a financial adviser before choosing the Member Direct investment option and formulating your investment strategy.

For more information on your advice options with AustralianSuper call 1300 300 273 between 8am to 8pm (AEST/AEDT) weekdays or visit australiansuper.com/advice

The financial advice you receive will be provided under the Australian Financial Services Licence of third parties and not by AustralianSuper Pty Ltd (AustralianSuper) and therefore is not the responsibility of AustralianSuper.

* All fees are GST inclusive. They are calculated daily and automatically deducted from your cash account on the first business day of each month.

† The PAF is determined by the option you select and not by the type of assets you hold. If you no longer hold the core asset type in Member Direct, e.g. you're in the Term Deposits option and don't hold Term Deposits or you're in the Shares & ETFs option and don't hold shares/ETFs/LICs, you can reduce the PAF you pay by moving to a lower fee option. To do this you must change your option online.
